

How to book an online Music Theory exam

Who can make the booking?

Anyone who is 18 or older can book the exam via an ABRSM account registered in their name. This could be a teacher, member of staff from a school or other organisation, a parent or the candidate if they are aged 18 or over. We refer to the person who books the exam as the exam 'applicant'.

However, the exam itself can take place at any venue that meets our requirements and venues can host multiple candidates as outlined in our guidelines here.

If you are a school and wish to discuss specific arrangements please email theory@abrsm.ac.uk by the end of the booking period.

You may find the following information useful when completing candidate details:

ABRSM Contact ID - the first time an exam is booked for a candidate, they will not have a Contact ID. We will provide this once an exam has been booked for them and it will then appear on all communications about their exams. The Contact ID should be entered every time an exam is booked for the candidate and if the candidate registers for an account.

Date of birth - this is compulsory as we need this information to identify candidates in our system and link up their records.

Email address for the candidate (parent/carer) - this is compulsory so that we can send candidate's their exam login details and the link to the exam.

Presented by – this will show the applicant name by default, but you can change it to any name that you want to have on the certificate as ‘presenting’ the candidate for their exam. This might be a school, music centre or a particular teacher. You can enter different ‘presented by’ names for different candidates.

Sensitive data consent – if you have requested access arrangements or reasonable adjustments for a candidate, please read the information provided and tick the box.

National centre number (UK only) – add this if candidates are taught at a school or college or if you teach them on behalf of a school or college. We can then confidentially pass on exam information to the government for inclusion in performance tables.
